

BOMBS THROWN IN RENEWAL OF IRISH RIOTING

Two Persons Killed and 36 Wounded as Warfare Breaks Out in Belfast Saturday

PEACE SETTLEMENT?

Lloyd George Expected to Again
Express His Views to De-
Valera This Week

(By the Associated Press)
Belfast, Sept. 25. — Two persons were killed and 36 wounded in rioting here last night during which bombs were thrown. Two children playing in the streets and a girl were wounded by stray bullets during the affray. The girl was wounded when the police and military fired on crowds of people in Seaford street. Eighteen of the persons wounded were taken to the Victoria hospital and the other 18 to the Women's hospital. During the fighting, a saloon was burned. One bomb was thrown in the Millers road, which is outside the area that has been concerned in the rioting. Six persons were wounded here, we are told seriously. One version of the earlier bombing in East Belfast is that a Unionist crowd threw a bomb into a store to set it on fire and that while they were arriving on the operation they were made the target for a Republican attack. Military reinforcements arrived in Belfast this afternoon and vigorous measures to quell the disturbances are expected.

Cork Citizens Assaulted.

Cork, Sept. 25. — According to reports made by Republican liaison officers, a party of citizens returning from a social gathering Saturday night was halted in McCurtain street and roughly treated by members of the British constabulary. The women of the party, terrified, fled from the scene. At the same hour, according to the reports, a police patrol of five men was accosted on St. Patrick's bridge by a large patrol of British police. The Republicans are alleged to have been questioned and called "Irish wine" and assaulted with batons and volvier butts. One man was stabbed in the arm with a bayonet, necessitating treatment in a hospital.

Irish Volunteers Laid Away.

Dublin, Sept. 25. — A funeral procession nine miles long, composed of 10,000 people, including 2,000 Irish volunteers, today escorted the bodies of William Riordan and Thomas J. O'Connell to the cemetery of St. Mary's. The bodies of the volunteers were disinterred at Newtown Saturday. The coffins were draped with Republican flags.

Churchill Favors Conference.

Dundee, Scotland, Sept. 24. — Secretary Churchill expressed himself today as very much in favor of a conference between the Irish question. He felt there was a much better chance of an agreement being reached by personal interviews than by correspondence, he said, and it was because of this he was anxious for a conference—the only thing, he declared, which stood between the government and complete capture of the Irish negotiations. DeValera had made it very doubtful whether there was a chance of a successful conference, the secretary said. "Willfully of this under duress," he added, "DeValera had proclaimed that his delegates would attend as the representatives of a foreign state."

The government, the colonial secretary asserted, would not allow pedantry, hairsplitting or quibbling to stand in the way of peace, but when its fundamental principles were challenged, it was well to make it clear that there would be no further concession on the part of the government. "Although Great Britain could unquestionably enforce the existing law upon Ireland," Mr. Churchill continued, "she none the less is called upon to clear away all possible misunderstandings. If our offer is rejected we have the conviction that our countrymen will support the empire, as will the opinion of the civilized world."

OFFER DECLARED GENEROUS.

The colonial secretary said the British government's offer was generous, sincere and unambiguous, and could be carried into effect immediately. "How could we agree to the setting up of a separate foreign republic in Ireland?" Mr. Churchill asked. No peace, he said, but a real war—not mere bickering—would follow such a course. "We want a conference, but a successful one," he declared. "After Mr. Churchill said, had made a sacrifice and no longer was a stumbling block to the rest of Ireland. The proposed conference, he declared, was the only thing which stood between the government and failure."

In connection with Churchill's reference to a "King of Ireland," which was considered by many of his hearers as virtually holding out the prospect to Ireland of a separate kingdom, it is recalled that Lord Hugh Cecil last May brought forward a scheme by which Ireland would be made an independent kingdom, the king to be a member of the Windsor family, probably the prince of Wales, to be appointed by the king of England.

Touching on the industrial situation Churchill made a plea for co-operation, saying the structure of the civilized world was strained, and that this was a time for loving alone all

Miss Hanan Dead, Double Tragedy Remains Mystery

Girl Victim of Supposed Jealous Rage of Mrs. Lawes Dies Without Advancing Any Explanation as to the Cause of Murder and Suicide

New York, Sept. 25. — Miss Mildred Hanan, daughter of the late Alfred P. Hanan, shoe manufacturer, died in the Long Island College hospital early today without having advanced any explanation as to why she had been shot Friday morning by her erstwhile chum, Mrs. Grace Lawes, who later committed suicide. Mrs. S. Borland, importer and Dartmouth graduate, who was in her company when the shooting took place outside the apartment of a mutual friend in Brooklyn, was at her bedside when the end came at 4 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Clara M. Hanan, her mother, and several other relatives also were present, but the girl who layed in unconsciousness shortly after midnight, did not recognize any of them. An autopsy performed by Dr. Carl Beutinger, assistant medical examiner, showed that the bullet pierced the thorax and the abdomen and lodged under the ninth rib on the right side, beneath the chest wall. One blood transfusion, made Friday in an effort to save the girl's life, seemed to give her additional strength and led physicians to hold out hope for her recovery, but a relapse set in Saturday evening and she failed rapidly. The real motive for the shooting may never be publicly known. Police who investigated the case expressed the theory that jealousy was a contributing factor but they were unable to determine whether it was because of Borland or because of the severance of Mrs. Lawes' friendly relations with Miss Hanan. Borland told police that he believed Mrs. Lawes was driven to the act as a result of having lost the friendship and financial assistance of the girl. He said that he pressed the belief that this was followed by excessive drinking, which Mrs. Lawes admitted in a letter to her sister in San Francisco found among her possessions after her death. Mrs. Lawes had lived with the Hanans until about two weeks ago, when a quarrel between her and Mildred at Shoreham, Long Island, resulted in quarrels and co-operating in rebuilding.

LLOYD GEORGE NOTE TO VALERA MAY BE DELAYED

London, Sept. 25. — Several members of the British cabinet, among whom Premier Lloyd George's reply to the latest communication of Eamonn DeValera is said to be going the rounds, have not yet conveyed their views to the premier concerning the situation, and it is regarded as not unlikely the premier's note will not be ready for dispatch to Dublin before Tuesday or Wednesday. No intimation has been vouchsafed as to the probable terms of the note, but opinion both in England and Ireland seems to be hopeful that it will be couched so as to accommodate the position of the Sinn Fein leaders and enable them to come into another conference. In the meantime, disturbing reports of new provocation acts alleged to have been made by "black and tans" in Cork and elsewhere are causing apprehension among those hopeful of a settlement of the Irish situation. According to Cork dispatches, civilian members of the Republican police were roughly treated Saturday night by British police patrols. Developments in the internment camp at Spike's Island, where prisoners are reported to be carrying out reprisals for alleged rough usage on the part of the guards, and the riot-and-developments in Belfast, where rioting continues unabated, add to the disquietude.

The wounded girl died tonight, making the total of deaths today three.

BODY OF N. Y. POLICEMAN'S SLAYER FOUND IN MORGUE

New York, Sept. 25. — A strange aftermath to the murder of Patrolman Daniel Neville, who was found shot to death on the night of August 27 in a vacant West Side lot, the hunt of criminals whom he harrowed relentlessly, took place in the city morgue today. There a body was identified by finger prints as that of John Gleason, 21, alias "Southead" Gleason, one of two men sought by police of every city for the crime. He had died from an overdose of drugs, far from the rendezvous of his band.

William Hoy, another of the alleged band, is awaiting trial on a charge of first degree murder. He surrendered to the chaplain of Sing Sing prison, fearing, he said, the police would tilt him in revenge for their comrade's murder.

TWO KILLED, FOUR INJURED, WHEN DRIVER GETS RATTLED

Seranton, Pa., Sept. 25. — Two persons were killed and four others injured tonight when a train on the Lackawanna railroad struck an automobile at Smith's crossing. The dead are Charles C. Downing and his daughter, Mrs. Charles Games of Jermy, while Mildred Games, six years old, is not expected to live. Downing, who was driving the car, halted it at the crossing. Believing he was too close to the tracks, he sought to back up. In his hurry, he threw the car into forward instead of reverse and it dashed headlong into the train.

Y. M. C. A. OFFICIAL DROWNED.

Atlantic City, Sept. 25. — Foster T. Parker, secretary to Charles K. Calkoun, in charge of the Y. M. C. A. at 347 Madison avenue, New York, was drowned in the surf here early tonight. Parker went in bathing after the lifeguards had gone off duty.

COLLIERS WOMAN BADLY HURT IN BINGHAMTON

Binghamton, Sept. 25. — Mrs. Julia M. Corbett, wife of Merrill J. Corbett of Binghamton, widely known manufacturer of wood chemical products, was killed here this evening when she was struck by an automobile driven by Rev. Andrew N. Forrester. Miss Harriet Glazier of Colliers, who was walking with her, also was seriously injured.

WOMEN'S 'BILL OF RIGHTS' PROPOSED

Program Includes New Constitutional Amendment Eliminating Sex Distinctions

Washington, Sept. 25. — A woman's "bill of rights" proposed for enactment by the federal and all state governments to remove all legal discriminations against women, was outlined today in a statement by the National Woman's party. The program includes a new constitutional amendment, declaring that "no political, civil or legal disabilities or inequalities on account of sex or on account of marriage," shall prevail, together with a bill to give women the same rights, privileges and immunities as men. It was announced that Senator Curtis, Republican, of Kansas, and Representative Fess, Republican, of Ohio, would introduce the new proposed constitutional amendment in congress October 1 and that copies of the new bill had been sent to all state chairmen of the Women's party, except Wisconsin, which already has enacted the law. Women have the right upon marriage to choose their names and have equal voice in custody of their children, legitimate or illegitimate, under the proposed new bill of the women's organization. Other legal rights for women proposed include: Suffrage, eligibility for all offices, freedom of contracts, choice of domicile, residence or name, jury service, acquisition and control of property, control of labor and earnings, eligibility for fiduciary positions, equality in grounds for divorce, and immunities and penalties for sex offenses. All common law disabilities of women would be abrogated under the constitution.

OLD SEA WARRIOR DOOMED.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 25. — The final attack upon the old battleship Alabama, already battered to the water's edge by the rain of bombs from army airplanes, probably will be made tonight, according to officers at Langley field. The broke out today on the old sea warrior, presumably as an aftermath of the 300-pound demolition bombs which found their mark during the assault last night. Mine sweepers made fast to the hulk and fought the fire back into the holds where it was not believed it would accomplish much additional damage.

UNEMPLOYED HOLD SING.

New York, Sept. 25. — Several hundred unemployed men braved a down-pour of rain tonight and carried out the program of a community sing in Central park arranged for their benefit by Urban League. The bad weather drove away all but a handful of their audience, which numbered several thousand men and women before the rain started. There was a large force of policemen on hand, but beyond an occasional cheer for the organizer of the affair, the crowd was orderly and the police had nothing to do.

R. R. SUPERINTENDENT DEAD.

Gloversville, Sept. 25. — William H. Dailey, division superintendent of the Ponda, Johnston and Gloversville railroad, died last night as the result of an operation. He had been connected with the local road for the past 30 years.

Half of Chicago Police Bootleggers, Says Chief

Ply Their Illicit Liquor Operations More Industiously Than They Watch Over the City, Fitzmorris
Declares

Chicago, Sept. 25. — Federal officials today had started an exhaustive investigation of the Chicago police department as a result of an appeal last night by Charles Fitzmorris, chief of police, who declared that, in his belief, "half of the city's 5,000 policemen are bootleggers, plying their illicit liquor operations much more industriously than they watch over the city." Federal indictment of at least seven members of the force, four of them commanders, may be expected within a day or two. United States District Attorney Clyne said tonight in a letter to Chief Fitzmorris, promising that every effort would be made to break up the alleged relationship between liquor rings and the police force. In a statement tonight, Chief Fitzmorris declared that prohibition was a failure, not only in Chicago but in every city of which he had knowledge. "In Chicago, there is more drunkenness than there ever was—more deaths from liquor than before prohibition—more of every evil attributable to the use of liquor than in the days before the so-called prohibition laws became 'effective,'" he declared. "Prohibition enforcement in Chicago is a joke. "Chicago is like a dry farm needing water and the prohibition enforcement office is as futile as any group of men would be who tried to stop the rain and prevent the ground from soaking up the moisture. The only way to make prohibition an actuality here or any place else is to stop the liquor at its source." The chief's statement tonight also charged that several city officials outside the police department were implicated in the police booze ring and said that preparations had been made to discharge half the force if that should be necessary.

N. Y. TEAMS BATTLE TO STICK AT TOP

Last Full Week of Season Finds
Pennant Races Still in Doubt

New York, Sept. 25. — The two New York teams possess the advantage as the final full week of the major league baseball season begins. The New York Americans' one-sided victory over the Cleveland world champions today makes it imperative for the Indians to turn the tables tomorrow or give the Yankees a lead that will be difficult to overcome. In the National league pennant race, New York increased its lead today to three games and Pittsburgh, which is playing a steadier game than the league leaders, has only a slim chance of capturing the honors. A comparison of the records of the New York and Cleveland American teams last week reveals that in six games each team scored 30 runs on 50 hits, while the Yankees had only one more error than the Indians. The New York pitchers were hit a trifle harder. Cleveland may have an opportunity to make up ground after the New-York series when four consecutive games are played with Chicago, which has won only four out of 18 games with the Indians this season and is now putting up weak opposition. New York anticipates little trouble in its three games with Philadelphia, but may find harder going in its single games with St. Louis, Washington and Boston, each of which teams are displaying strength.

MRS. DELMONTE TALKS TODAY

Will Give Police Court Her Story of
Arbuckle Party; Comedian
Sundays in Jail

San Francisco, Sept. 25. — Roscoe C. Arbuckle, film comedian, charged with the slaying of Miss Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress, spent a quiet Sunday in jail while the district attorney prepared a list of witnesses for examination when the police court hearing is resumed tomorrow. Arbuckle had as his visitors relatives who are in the city, and under his attorney's orders refused to discuss the charge against him. The first complete story of the party in Arbuckle's suite in the Hotel St. Francis on Labor day, which was followed by the death of Miss Rappe four days later, is expected to be told at the hearings tomorrow when the prosecution calls Mrs. Bambina Maudo Delmonte, who preferred the charge against Arbuckle; Miss Alice Blake and Miss Zeh Provost, who attended the party.

The defense has not indicated how it is to combat the testimony so far offered by the prosecution. The only witness who has been cross examined, and he only briefly, is Alfred Semmacher, who yesterday testified for the prosecution but as a "hostile witness," according to the police judge. The police judge is to decide whether Arbuckle is to be held for the superior court, and if so, whether on the charge or on the grand jury indictment which charges manslaughter.

NEW YORK BACK TO NORMAL TIME WITH LITTLE MIX-UP

New York, Sept. 25. — New York went back to normal time today, after five months of daylight saving, with but little confusion. Officially, daylight saving ended at 2 a. m., but most clocks were turned back last night before people went to bed. Some absent-minded ones appeared at church this morning an hour earlier than usual or missed trains by counting on the previous hour's difference between railroad and city time, but these cases were few enough to be exceptional. Suburban trains which were advanced last April to suit the convenience of their patrons, went back on their old schedules. Several changes for the betterment of the service also were made in through trains.

OPPOSE VETERAN PREFERENCE.

New York, Sept. 25. — Organization of the Committee Against Veteran Preference, a coalition of several civic organizations and associations of civil service employees, was announced today. The committee, of which Robert H. Lofnes is chairman, and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt and Amley Wilcox of Buffalo, vice chairmen, plans to conduct a state-wide campaign for the defeat of the proposed constitutional amendment giving war veterans an absolute preference over all others in civil service appointments and promotions.

SMITH KEYNOTE SPEAKER TODAY AT PARTY MEET

Former Governor Will Act as Temporary
Chairman of Democratic State Convention

MISS MILLS HONORED

Will Become Permanent Chairman
—Smith May Run for Governorship Again

New York, Sept. 25. — Former Governor Alfred E. Smith will make the keynote speech and act as temporary chairman, and Miss Harriet May Mills of Syracuse will be elected permanent chairman of the Democratic state convention when it meets here tomorrow to name a candidate for the court of appeals and to draft a state platform. These plans were agreed upon today at a luncheon given by Herbert C. Pell Jr., Democratic state chairman, to 60 party leaders from all parts of the state. Former Supreme Court Justice Edward J. McGoldrick was chosen chairman of the platform committee, whose tentative plans indicate support of issues raised by Mayor Hylan in his campaign for re-election.

The platform, party leaders said, would assail Governor Miller's transit plans and probably would contain an appeal for the repeal of the Mullian-Gage prohibition enforcement law. Another proposed plank dealing with the prohibition question contains recommendations for an amendment to the Volstead act legalizing the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer. The platform is also expected to call for action upon the granting of bonuses to former service men and to condemn the recent judicial nullification of the bonus law passed by the legislature. Many prominent Democrats. The list of names from which a candidate to oppose Judge William S. Andrews, the Republican nominee, for the court of appeals office, may be selected, is long and includes prominent Democrats from every part of the state. Among those mentioned today were Delos M. Cosgrove, Water town; Supreme Court Justice Henry J. Borst, Amsterdam; Justice Victor J. Dowling, Appleton; Judge Charles E. Frank, Ithaca; County Judge Frederick H. Hazzard, Utica; John C. K. Taylor, Middletown; Frank Chase, Catskill; John T. Norton, Troy; James S. Havens, former representative in congress, Rochester; Philip D. Laing, Buffalo; Lewis R. Parker, Albany; Robert Johnson, assistant district attorney of New York county; County Judge Charles Bell, Herkimer; James A. Parsons, attorney general, Hornell; Joseph A. Kellogg, former justice of the supreme court and public service commissioner, Glens Falls. Local leaders predicted the nomination would go to a New York city man in order to insure a large vote in the city, where lies the greatest Democratic strength. The convention will be called to order at noon. Addresses of former Governor Smith and Miss Mills will follow immediately. The deliberations and reports of the platform and other committees are expected to take up comparatively little time. The contest over the nomination will be cut short, it is believed, by the necessity of dispatching a messenger to Albany on the 6 p. m. train in order to insure the certificate of nomination being placed in the office of the secretary of state before midnight. Former Governor Smith's selection to make the keynote speech was construed by political observers as an indication of the party leaders' plans to enter him again in the race for the governorship next year or to name him a candidate for the United States senatorship.

SECRET SERVICE SCHOOL

Department of Justice Agents Will Read Books and Learn How to Be Detectives.

New York, Sept. 25. — Department of justice agents are going to school to read books and learn how to be detectives. The curriculum of the school, just started by the Bureau of Investigation, includes study of such technicalities as the laws of search and arrest, rudiments of evidence, rights of citizens and preparation of cases for prosecution. William J. Burns, chief of the bureau, explained that establishment of the school was the first step to do away with hit-or-miss methods. "We are going to teach our men to get results," he said. "Slips of investigation, making discoveries only by chance, is going to stop. And men who cannot be taught to be effective will be dropped."

"Federal investigators are going to learn right away that they are not to flash their shields for their own amusement; and they are going to learn that the real object of this bureau is to protect citizens and to prevent crime, not just to arrest crooks. We are not going to set the world afire, but we are going to give this country a detective service of which its citizens can be as proud as the English are of Scotland Yard."

When Crown Prince Rupprecht appeared on the parade ground in a field marshal's uniform there was a scene of wild enthusiasm.

YANKEES WIN, 21 TO 7!

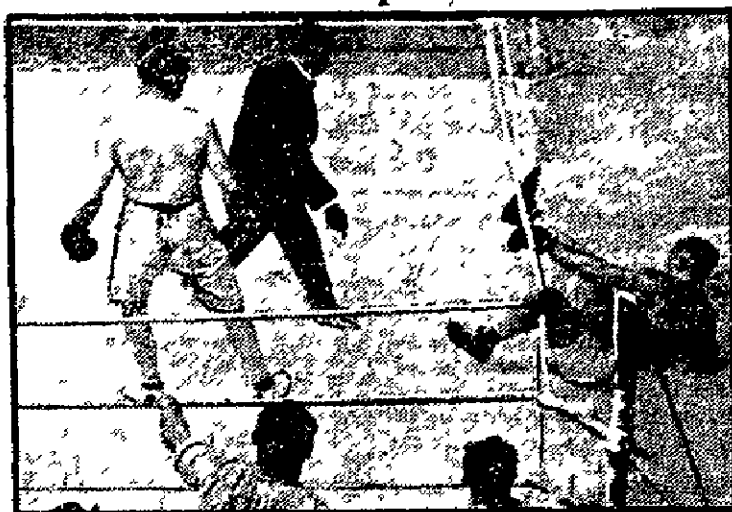

New Yorkers Found Cleveland Moundsman All Over the Map and Set Season's High Record for Scoring.

New York, Sept. 25. — New York retained its full game lead in the American league race today by defeating Cleveland by the overwhelming score of 21 to 7. New York's score is the season's high record.

The Yankees knocked out Ray Caldwell, a former member of the New York pitching staff, in the second inning, and scored ten runs off him, a left-hander, in the two innings he pitched. Of the eight earned runs scored on Mails in the fourth inning, seven were scored before a New York player was retired. Clark, a youngster, also was pounded hard, Meusel and Frazier hitting him for home runs late in the game.

Meusel's home run was his 21th for the season and enabled him to tie Williams of the St. Louis Browns for second place in both among major league home run hitters.
Carl Mays was hit hard at times, but he always was in a position to take things easy on his big lead. It was his 26th victory of the season. Mays is the first pitcher in either league to win over 25 games this year. A 40,000 capacity crowd saw the game. The grandstand was sold out two hours before play and the entire park was closed up an hour before the game started. Rain fell at intervals during the game.

GREATEST WORLD'S SERIES PREDICTED

Post-Season Classic of National Pastime Has Aroused Unusual Interest This Year

New York, Sept. 25. — Baseball fans throughout the land have started their annual chatter-box, the speculative forerunner of every world's series, the post-season classic of the national pastime. Patrons of the sport are predicting one of the greatest series in history.

An average of 25,749 persons attended each game in the seven-game series played last year between the Brooklyn national and the Cleveland American. The American league team, led by the famous Triple Speaker defeated Brooklyn five out of the seven games. Three contests were played in Brooklyn and four in Cleveland.

Stanley Coveleski won three games for Cleveland, the first fourth and seventh, and gave two bases on balls in all of them. He allowed the Brooklyn batters five hits in the first game, one of which was a two-bagger by Zack Wheat. In the second game he also allowed the Dodgers five hits, one a two-bagger by Griffith, the Brooklyn right fielder. The third was another five-hit game, with no extra base wallpops.

The most striking feature of the series was the triple play made by Wambsgans, unassisted in the fifth game played at Cleveland on October 10. Wamby took Mitchell's line drive, touched second from which Kilduff had started for third, then touched Miller in person as he raced toward second.

Ivy Olson, Brooklyn shortstop, Pete Kilduff, Brooklyn second baseman, and Wamby, Cleveland second sacker, went through the series without an error. Olson had 12 putouts and 20 assists. Kilduff, 15 putouts and 25 assists. Wamby, 22 putouts and 17 assists.

Sherrill Smith hurled two games for Brooklyn and allowed but one run in each, yet the Cleveland beat him by that one lone tally in the sixth game at Cleveland.
Eddie Smith, the Cleveland right fielder, sent the ball sailing over the right field wall in the fifth game, at Cleveland, scoring three men ahead of him. All of those who crossed the plate before Smith had hit safely and Cleveland earned four runs in the first inning.

PITTSFIELD CARRIES OFF EASTERN LEAGUE PENNANT

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 25. — The Eastern League baseball season closed today with Pittsfield winning the pennant. Under the management of Walter Hammond the youthful second baseman, the Pittsfield club came from behind in the latter part of the season and climbed over Worcester and Bridgeport. Pittsfield won the flag two years ago and last year it went to New Haven.

Elm Park Wins at New Berlin.
The Boosters club of the Elm Park church returned from New Berlin Saturday evening from their trip to that village to play the Bohne-Lohr church baseball team enthusiastic over the reception accorded them while in the Lattinut valley. The team and supporters were entertained at dinner in the church parlors and were given every courtesy and privilege. The game was a one-sided contest, resulting in a 21 to 2 victory for the Elm Park team. It is probable that a return game will be played in this city Saturday, October 8th at which time the Elm Park boys will return the hospitality received at New Berlin.

MANY FREAKY PLAYS IN WORLD'S SERIES

Review of Championship Games of Past Few Years Reveals Unusually Brilliant Performances

New York, Sept. 25. — Unusual plays, brilliant performances of individual players and freaky things have entered into many of the world's baseball championship games. Such occurrences are recalled each year in fandom and lead to the speculative interest in the championship games about to be played.

The outstanding feature of the series in 1908, in which the Chicago Cubs defeated the Detroit Tigers, was the hurling of Pitchers Overall and Brown of the Cubs. Overall won two games, the second of which he allowed the Detroit four hits and won six to one, and the fifth in which he allowed three hits and won two to nothing. Brown shut out the Tigers in the fourth game three to nothing. The Tigers getting but four hits off his weird delivery.

In 1909, Babe Adams, the veteran Pittsburgh hurler, won three games for the Pirates, the first, fifth and seventh, against Detroit. Hank Wagner, the Pirates shortstop, played brilliantly as did Moriarty, the Detroit third-sacker.

Bender and Combs pitched and won the entire series for the Athletics against the Cubs in 1910. Combs won all three games in which he started and Bender won one and lost one. Laddie Collins performed brilliantly as did at bat for the Athletics. The Cubs were favorites to win in the series.

The home runs of Frank "Home-Run" Baker contributed largely to the Athletics victory over the Giants in the series of 1911. In the second game Baker a homer put the Athletics in the lead and his homer in the third game tied the score after the Giants appeared to have the game on ice.

Thirty-seven years ago had in the 1912 games between the Boston Red Sox and the New York Giants in the eighth game at Boston, on October 16, the score was tie in the ninth. The Giants scored one in the tenth and led. Harry Hooper robbed them of a run that may have stayed off defeat by leaning over the fence and taking Doyle's long hit which would have been a homer. Then disaster befell the Giants in Boston's half. Snodgrass muffed a long fly by Engle who batted in place of Wood, the Boston hurler, whose hand was injured in the previous inning when he stopped Catcher Meyers hard liner.

Engle took second on the muff. Snodgrass then made a magnificent catch of Hooper's fly which seemed good for three bases. Mathewson tried all his cunning to strike out Yerkes, and failed. Yerkes walked. Speaker hit the first ball pitched for an easy foul which should have been caught by first baseman Merkle. As it occurred later, by capturing this foul Merkle would have saved the game for the Giants for Speaker singled, sending Engle across the plate with the tying run. Yerkes stopping at third, Gardner sent a long sacrifice fly to Devore and Yerkes sped across with the winning run.

In 1913 the Athletics won from the Giants again. One of the bright spots in this series was the great pitching duel between Mathewson of the Giants and Plank of the Athletics in the second game. The Giants won in the tenth inning, batting Plank for three runs. Barry, Collins and Baker the great Athletic infielders performed well when pitched Philadelphia to victory in two games.

The Boston Braves, who had made a game light in the National league and won their way from the cellar to the pennant, upset all odds in 1914 by winning four games straight from the world's champion Athletics. Little John Evers pulled one of the greatest bone-head plays in world's series history in the third game. In the third game with the bases full, Baker hit a hard grounder to John Juggled the ball and looked dumb while two men crossed the plate.

The hitting and fielding of George Duffy Lewis featured the 1915 series between the Boston Red Sox and the Philadelphia Nationals. He drove in Speaker with the Sox only an in the eighth inning, first game. In the fourth game his two-bagger sent across the winning run for Boston in the sixth inning. He collected three of his team's six hits off Alexander in the third game which the Sox won in the ninth on his single which drove in a run. More than 43,000 persons witnessed the game.

Harry Hooper of the Boston Red Sox, the same player who saved his team the series in 1912 by catching Doyle's long hit as it went over the fence, played a brilliant game for his team in the series of 1916 against Brooklyn. He batted .32 and played exceptionally afield. His hits were all timely and contributed to the Red Sox victory.

Babe Ruth, now the home-run champion and a member of the New York Yankees, pitched the Red Sox to two victories over the Chicago Cubs in 1918. Tyler's pitching and hitting also helped the Sox to win the series. Carl Mays, who also is a member of the Yankees this year, won two games from Boston by his airtight hurling.

Last year the triple play made by Wambsgans of Cleveland in the fifth inning of the fifth game against Brooklyn. Elmer Smith's homer with three on in the first inning of the fifth game and Bagby's homer with two on in the fourth inning of the same game were features. Speaker, the Cleveland manager, played well.

Sidney and Norwich have a three-game series of baseball with Norwich the winner of the first encounter. The second game was scheduled for yesterday, but with Sidney there with a team heavily re-enforced prepared to grab a victory, rain interfered and the game was postponed until Sunday. Norwich also had a bunch of strong players, including Kinney late of the Unadilla team on hand ready for the encounter.

On Friday Norwich was defeated by the K. of C team of Utica by the score of 7-3. Steffen was in center field for the K. of C team.

FEW CABLES LEAVE RUSSIA

Hundreds of Messages Sent in With Answer Prepaid, Say Riga Telegraph Officials.

Riga, Latvia.—Although Russia has been in open telegraph communication with the outside world for some months, since the Russian-English and various other trade agreements were signed, few telegrams ever come out of Russia in response to the thousands that are sent in, say officials of the telegraph administration in Riga and Reval. Most of the telegrams are routed through these two cities, which are in direct wire communication with Moscow and Petrograd.

"We have a good deal of money on hand, unused in connection with 'answer prepaid' cablegrams from America and elsewhere to Moscow and other Russian points," said an official of the Riga telegraph department. "Telegrams by the hundreds have been sent in to Russia with answer prepaid, but very few of the answers have come."

HE STICKS TO HIS "BUDDIE"

Former Service Man Takes Up Collection and Saves Ex-Comrade From Jail Term.

Bayonne, N. J.—That "buddies" of the battlefield stick together after they have become comrades of civil life was illustrated to a courtroom filled with interested spectators here recently.

Michael Zwanick of this city, over-sees service man, charged with a minor offense, was about to go to jail for 30 days in default of payment of a $25 fine. Joseph Rush, in the courtroom crowd, recognized the young prisoner as a man with whom he had served in the campaign in France. Taking his hat, Rush started a collection in court.

Then he went out and made a house-to-house canvass which netted him enough for the fine and costs. Recorder Cain accepted the payment and released the soldier, who declared it was his first and last time before the bar.

Both men are members of the American Legion here and they served together in Company H, Two Hundred and Tenth Infantry.

COMING WINTER WILL BE COLD

Scientist Makes Prediction After Study of Weather

WEATHER REPEATING ITSELF

Analysis of Data Covering Century Indicates We Are Now Experiencing Series of Alternations of Severe and Mild Winters—A Season Above or Below Normal in Temperature Likely to Be Followed by One to Three Just Like It.

Washington.—That next winter will be a cold one is the indication of weather data compiled by Dr. C. F. Brooks, formerly meteorologist of the weather bureau here, and now associate professor of meteorology and climatology at Clark university.

An analysis of the weather records of over a century indicates that we are now experiencing a series of alternations of severe and warm winters. Last fall, on the basis of his investigations, Doctor Brooks said that last winter would be warm. It was. And now he says that it is not unreasonable to expect that next winter will be a cold one, and that the winter of 1922-23 will be a warm one.

The weather seems to be repeating itself. The present series of sharply alternating winters began in 1917-18 with the cold winter of that year. The winter of 45 years before, 1872-73, inaugurated a series of winters that were severe, warm, severe, warm, etc., until 1882-83. And 113 years ago, indications from incompletely kept records are that the winter of 1804-5 began a similar series of alternations.

These two previous remarkable series of alternating cold and warm winters and the present one had almost identical preliminaries. Doctor Brooks has found. All three series were preceded by a few moderately mild winters, an ordinary or moderately cold winter, and then a severe winter, which opened the swings up and down in the winter temperature. The first of the moderate winters of the present series was 1913-14.

If the present surging of hot and cold winters is following the same pattern of the alternations of the seventies, it is expected that they will end with a severe winter in 1927-28.

Doctor Brooks' findings are based on weather records from New Bedford, Mass., New York, N. Y., Washington, D. C., Cincinnati, O., and Chicago, Ill., for the present series and the alternations of 45 years ago. The data of the series at the beginning of the century were obtained from records made at Cincinnati, O., and at New Haven, Conn.

They seem to hold for the whole world, however, as he has noted that when large changes between the characters of successive winters occur on one side of the Atlantic, large ones are usually occurring on the other side as well. Places as far separated as Paris and Washington show this connection.

Centers of Action.

"Such sequences of alternating cold and warmer winters were evidently the result of an oscillatory movement of the North Atlantic and North American 'grand centers of action of the atmosphere,'" Doctor Brooks says.

That the centers of action of the atmosphere, or the points of high and low pressure, should be intensively studied from winter to winter to allow successful forecasts of the characters of winters, is urged by Doctor Brooks.

In discussing the predictions of the familiar non-scientific weather prophets who periodically make long range forecasts of the weather of the following winter, Doctor Brooks points out that American and European investigators seem to have established the fact that in ordinary times a season appreciably above or below normal in temperature is likely to be followed by one to three or more seasons having temperature departures in the same direction.

"Thus it may be that 'forecasters' of mild or cold winters who rely on some biological signs in autumn may justly claim more than chance success, though for reasons different from those commonly advanced," he declares. "Five out of the seven winter predictions which came to me last fall from newspapers east of the Mississippi river were to the effect that last winter would be mild, according to indications afforded by birds, worms, squirrels, muskrats, frogs, etc."

PIGEONS AID DRUG ADDICTS

Carry Narcotics to Inmates of Blackwell's Island, New York, Says Detective.

New York.—Carrier pigeons are the latest aids pressed into service by New York drug vendors to supply imprisoned customers, it is revealed.

Detective Quigley, who arrested Anthony Adamo, an alleged drug vendor, and confiscated $4,000 worth of drugs and a pigeon, said there were at least two cases on record in which pigeons had taken drugs to addicts held at Blackwell's island. Adamo refused to admit that his pigeon was a drug carrier.

Justice to the Bedbug.

Many times the bedbug has been accused of transmitting disease, but the investigating scientist of the United States public health service says the bug apparently has been charged with wrongdoing when not guilty, as the pest has no way save the mouth in which to carry germs and is too busy eating to make mouth germs of any special danger. However, the flea, louse and mosquito have been convicted of being disease carriers.

ALL ON STANDARD TIME

With the stroke of the clock at midnight on Sunday morning, all cities and villages of the state which during the summer had been on daylight saving time, set their clocks an hour back. From that moment the confusion as to trains and the operation of business places ceased to be. In Oneonta, which had been on standard time through the year, it made no difference, nor any to her citizens save that when they were in Albany, New York or some other city which had gone on daylight saving.

But now that the season of confusion is over, there is a quite general sentiment on the part of press and people, even in cities where there has been most demand for daylight saving, that there should be but one time adopted next year in this state. The confusion and annoyance resulting from the two time systems, and the legislature, to which appeal is naturally made, should early in the session make decision as to what next spring is to be done. Last spring, unfortunately, there was procrastination. Nobody knew until late in the session and in the end the matter became a go-as-you-please proposition which satisfied nobody.

What now appears to be wanted is a law which shall fix one time for the state, and since the larger part of the commonwealth favors standard time, there will probably be an effort to make that the uniform time. Still, this should not affect those who desire to have their factories and other establishments close an hour earlier. The only thing needed is to begin an hour earlier by the clock, and close an hour earlier—by the clock. It is a mistaken idea—that the hours of labor must be governed by fixed rules.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.

The election of Chester S. Lord of New York city to be chancellor of the University of the State of New York, succeeding Dr. Vandever of Albany, who lately resigned, was unquestionably a good selection. He had been a regent since 1917, has been devoted to the work and is unquestionably one of its most valuable members. Also, he had been vice chancellor since last May and was logically in line for promotion.

Mr. Lord is a graduate of Hamilton college, class of 1874, and later found employment as a reporter with the New York Sun. He was with that paper during the years in which Charles A. Dana, surrounding himself with men of fine ability, made the Sun alike editorially and in its news columns, a model of journalism. Solely by his own talents, for nothing save talent gave a man ascendancy of the Sun, he became its managing editor and continued in that position until a few years ago, when he resigned to enjoy the rest he had earned and to devote some time to writing of more abiding nature.

His election as chancellor places at the head of the department of managers, for that it what the regents of the university are, a man of fine talent who will continue the best traditions of that body. It is fortunate for the educational policies of the state that there is to be had such men as Mr. Lord to direct them.

HIGHER OCTOBER PRICES

Dairymen's League Announces $3.37 as Next Month's Figure—Advance Is Cent Per Quart.

The directors of the Dairymen's League Co-operative association have sold the October pooled milk in class one for $3.37 per hundred. This is an advance of one cent a quart for this class of milk over the price for September. The price for this class of milk in September was $2.99 a hundred. This price is for three per cent milk at the 201-210 milk zone with the usual differentials for freight and butter fat.

Milk sold in class two, to be used chiefly for the manufacture of cream and ice cream, will bring $2.25 a hundred. This is the same as the September price for this class.

The price for class three milk, which is used chiefly for evaporation, condensed and evaporated milk and for cheese of the hard type will be determined by market quotations during the month on butter, adding 40 cents a hundred to this butter price. The price for class four milk, that is, milk which is used to manufacture butter and American cheese, will be determined by market quotations on butter and cheese.

These prices were recommended by the directors of the Dairymen's League Co-operative association, meeting in New York city on September 21 and 22, after several hours of discussion of conditions surrounding milk production and of market conditions. As everyone knows, industrial conditions at the present time are bad. Thousands of men are out of work. It is felt that farmers, therefore, will be pleased with the above prices, for while they are not high considering the farmers' cost of production, yet they are good in view of the industrial situation and in comparison with the prices for milk and for other farm products, which farmers are now receiving in other territories.

PRESS AND PUBLIC OPINION

The Gun Behind the Mail Bag.

When Postmaster General Hays took sick in his department last April, a month after he succeeded Mr. Durlison, he found that the mail robberies for the preceding year had amounted to $6,246,407, with a recovery of $3,286,917.

In the next five months, from April 5 to September 7, the total amount stolen was only $38,689, with a recovery of $78,555. Mr. Hays had reduced the monthly average net loss from $269,000 to $2,000.

How was this seeming miracle accomplished? By moral suasion? By upbraiding the mail robbers spiritual-ly? No, alas, no! Will Hays said to his men: "Here are shotguns and revolvers. Bring me a mail robber, dead or alive, and you shall carry home a cash reward."

Will Hays would never do as the chairman of a committee on universal disarmament. He's too practical, too mindful of human ways and weaknesses. — [New York Tribune.]

Mothers of the Revolution.

Peekskill, N. Y., is to unveil on October 9 what is said to be the only monument in this country to the mothers of the American Revolution.

A large boulder on the site of Continental Village, which from 1776-1788 was a military post and depot of supplies, is to bear the inscription: "In memory of the Mothers of the Revolution who watched and prayed while our fathers fought that we might be free. They also serve who only stand and wait." The last sentence might just as well have been left out. If history may be believed, the Revolutionary mothers weren't permitted to do much standing and waiting—although they have waited a long time for their monument. — [Philadelphia Record.]

Waterlogged Marks.

The collapse of the German mark, which has fallen so that it now has value of less than one cent, has centered worldwide attention upon the chaotic condition of German currency. The rapid decline of the past few weeks, although it may be attributed to a number of factors both internal and external, is primarily the result of a new burst of speed on the part of the printing presses. In fact, the downward curve of the mark from 23.3 cents in 1919 to today corresponds rather closely with the periodic issues of new floods of paper money. — [New York Sun.]

Japan's Naval Proposals.

Two radical proposals aimed at the limitation of naval armaments, as submitted to the Ashi Shimbun of Tokyo, will be presented by Japan at the coming conference in Washington. In substance, they are that the powers concerned shall have no naval bases in the Pacific and that their relative naval strength shall be adjusted on the principle that no fleets for attack are to be maintained. — [New York World.]

Bolshevik Pledges.

Lord Curzon, the present foreign secretary in London, has rarely been accused of being a humorist. And yet there is something in his latest plaint to Soviet Russia which if it is not meant to be taken humorously, is pathetic. The noble lord "registers the fact" with "profound disappointment" that despite spoken professions of friendship there have been "unabated indications of bitter hostility" toward Great Britain and all its dependencies by the Soviets. What did the heart of the British foreign office expect? Didn't he know that he was dealing with men who boast that pledges are not to be kept if inconvenient? — [New York Tribune.]

One Great Need of the Age.

GALE'S PRESENT ATTITUDE

Former Chenango Man, Facing Trial for Draft Evasion, Writes Following Letter Recounting Socialist Declarations.

The following letter has been given out for publication, having been sent recently by Linn A. B. Gale, former publisher of "Gale's Magazine," who is now a military prisoner at Governors Island, to his attorney, Samuel M. Castleton, of Atlanta, Ga.

"I realize the unpleasant position in which you, as a radical, are placed in continuing to act as attorney for a man who has renounced his radical views.

"You have rendered me splendid service and I shall regret very much to have you retire from the case. Nobody could have been more loyal, competent and painstaking than you have been.

"However, in justice to you personally, to your Socialist principles and to your associations, I leave in your hands the decision if you feel that you cannot conscientiously handle the case further. I will accept your withdrawal without the slightest ill-feeling.

"For you personally I shall always feel the highest esteem and gratitude. But I am thoroughly convinced that the radical doctrines for which my wife and I gave our utmost energies in the last few years, are fundamentally wrong.

"There are many fine spirits in the radical movement. It contains some of the most unselfish idealists living. But it also contains too many who are selfish, malicious, vindictive and full of hatred. It is essentially destructive, not constructive. It is saturated with venom and bitterness. It seeks with violent hands to force on humanity an artificial economic equality that can only come by slow, patient processes of evolution—if indeed it can ever come. It talks fondly of brotherhood while feeding the flames of antagonism and enmity—while doing the very things that make it harder and harder to establish brotherhood. It sneers at patriotism and national pride instead of honestly recognizing America's moral and material leadership and frankly admitting that the progress of the whole world is unescapably involved in the maintenance of that leadership.

"The way to social progress lies not in revolution, but in constructive evolution and whole-hearted Americanism."

Mr. Castleton has not replied yet. Mr. Gale's other attorney is ex-Assemblyman Peter P. McElligott of 263 West 23d street, New York, a Democratic leader, who knew Mr. Gale when the latter was legislative clerk in the state capitol at Albany, when he was political writer on ex-Governor Martin F. Glynn's daily, the Albany Times-Union, and when he was editor of "The Jeffersonian Democrat."

Mr. Gale has been in confinement since his return from Mexico, April 22 of this year, or about five months. The maximum penalty that may be imposed for draft evasion, of which he is accused, is one year.

It is announced that Mr. McElligott will take up the matter of financial matters and accounts of Mr. Gale that were unsettled when he left the United States in 1913 and that all such accounts will be arranged.

Goodbye Until Next Year.

The Charles K. Champlin Stock company closed their fair week engagement at the Oneonta theatre Saturday with a matinee performance of "Six Against Seven" and an evening performance of "Johnny Get Your Gun." The work of the Champlin players in both productions was fully equal to their other appearances of the week and deserved the applause of the large crowds present. The work of Mr. Champlin and his players has also pleased Oneonta audiences and their appearance last week was no exception. Their annual visit next season will be eagerly anticipated.

The Oneonta theatre will be closed this week to allow the completion of the enlargements and alterations but will open the week following. Full announcement of the productions to be given after the opening will be given in a subsequent issue of The Star.

The Range That Really Saves

There are two separate ovens—one for coal and one for gas. Both ovens may be used at one time—or either may be used singly. In addition to the two baking ovens, there is a gas broiler oven. There is room on the coal and gas sections, at the top, for NINE large utensils. You can do all of your cooking at one time. You can do it better—with less waste and less work. You have coal for Winter, to keep the kitchen warm and comfortable; and gas for Summer, to keep the kitchen cool.

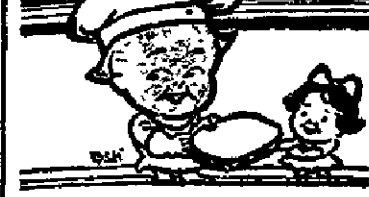

The illustration below shows the wonderful pearl grey porcelain enamel finish—so neat and attractive. By simply passing a damp cloth over the surface you are able to clean your range instantly. No more soiled hands, no more dust and smut. It banishes the old time task of blacking the range. You owe it to yourself to enjoy the comfort and convenience of the Gold Medal Glenwood range.

NORMAL AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Provide For Unusually Fine Series of Entertainment—Lecturers, Players and Musicians of Highest Rank at Nominal Cost For Course.

With the approach of the fall and winter season, interest naturally turns to the announcement of the series of lectures and musical course which for thirty years has been an annual feature of our community life. This course promises several unique attractions for the season of 1921-1922. These attractions were made possible by reason of the decision of the management to expand most of the engagements left from last year in the effort to secure even stronger numbers than usual, and the result is that the course has been purchased at a cost of several hundred dollars in advance of any previous year.

To bring Theo. Karle, Melvena Passmore and the foremost players to the High school in one season is a distinctive achievement, while the other numbers in the course are equal in merit at least to those of other years. It is only because of the reason mentioned above that the management is able to secure this splendid series and yet to leave the price of tickets at two dollars for the season.

The course opens October 18 at the High school building, where the entire series will doubtless be given again as usual. In presenting Melvena Passmore, we feel we have advanced materially in the musical world. She is a young soprano, 50 years old, with a wonderful voice. The soloist of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra. With her are such artists as Marion Jordan, of whom Sousa says, "The finest lady flute player in the country." Ellen Keller, violinist, has appeared as soloist with many of the prominent orchestras and in all the large cities of the country. Next comes a New York pianist, who has appeared with many of the great artists.

The Gertrude Crosby company appears November 18. Miss Crosby is one of the most popular entertainers in the Lyceum world. A reader of various personality and marked originality she presents clever stories and songs in costume. Frank Cornwall, baritone, and Louise Thompson, soprano and pianist, unite with Miss Crosby in assuring to our audience a delightful evening.

Maude Scherer, whose one act plays were so enthusiastically received at the time of her appearance in Oneonta last season will provide a new one act play program showing the wealth of opportunity in this new form of drama, giving wide variety in subject and character and unusual scope for her ability. The date is December 6.

Tuesday evening January 10, is set apart for the presentation of "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" by the Foremost Dramatic Players. This is John Fox Junior's famous story of the life in the valley of Kingdom Come. The story of Chad, the homeless waif, his rise to fortune and his fondness for Melissa, the mountain girl, "who has always loved him and who always loved his dog" is evolved in the master dramatization of Eugene Walter. Seven artists of distinction merit comprise the cast.

Chancellor George H. Bradford appears February 6. This university lecturer is a second Russell Cowell in his pulpit days, an able and inspirational lecturer who does the community real good. The Billboard, a Lyceum magazine, reports him as the 100% satisfaction lecturer.

This unusual course will conclude with a most unusual number. Theo. Karle is now recognized as one of the very leading concert artists before the public. Herman Deveries, critic of the Chicago American says that Karle is the greatest American tenor. He has appeared with Bressan, Gluck, Taurar, and the leading symphonies in this country. He comes April 19.

Students will begin to distribute tickets to the friends of the schools at once, and regular patrons are reminded that the High school auditorium is limited in capacity to less than eight hundred and that the unusual features of this course necessitate early reservations of tickets.

BISHOP BERRY CONING

To Preach at Series of Special Meetings at First Methodist Church Commencing Thursday Evening Next—Themes Announced For Six of the Sermons.

Bishop Joseph F. Berry of Philadelphia is to be the speaker in a series of special meetings in the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city commencing Thursday evening of this week and continuing until Oct. 1th. Rev. Dr. Johns, the pastor of the church in announcing the visit of the beloved Bishop, declares that the first church is exceedingly fortunate in having Bishop Berry pay this visit to the church, it being the first time since he left the pastorate more than 30 years ago to assume larger fields of activity and usefulness to the church that he has found time in which to assist any church in his area.

Bishop Berry will deliver during his stay in the city at evening services at the auditorium of the First church the series of sermons that he delivered during the past summer at Ocean Grove, N. J., which attracted no little attention and much favorable comment.

The first of the series of sermons will be delivered on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. The theme will be "The King of the Kingdom." Other themes announced by the bishop are Individualism and the Kingdom, "Prayer and the Kingdom," "Hindrances to the Kingdom," "The Highest Thing in the Kingdom," "Conquests of the Kingdom." The anticipation of the visit of Bishop Berry, and of the series of meetings, Pastor Johns yesterday morning spoke on the text: "He that wanneeth souls is wise," and in his sermon laid special emphasis upon the satisfaction and reward for those who bring others into the kingdom and he urged the members of the church and congregation not only to attend the special services but to invite their friends to accompany them. Dr. Johns assured his hearers that the sermons would amply repay all who hear them for the time and effort and he expressed the hope that the entire membership will cooperate in making the meetings as profitable and helpful to those afflicted with the church but to many others.

It is expected that there will be special music for the services and that they will give an impetus to all branches of church activity. Bishop Berry during his sojourn in the city will be assisted by Dr. and Mrs. Johns at the parsonage.

MOLINARI HEARING TODAY

Judge Grants Defendant Examination of Witnesses and Releases Him on $5,000 Bail

When arraigned in the city court for hearing Saturday morning Anthony Molinari, who was arrested Friday afternoon on a warrant charging him with selling intoxicating liquors asked for an examination of witnesses. The judge granted his request, fixing bail for the defendant's appearance at $5,000 and the time for the hearing at 9 o'clock this morning. Molinari secured bail and was released.

The warrant for Molinari's arrest was issued on information of Patrolman Walling, who, it is alleged, saw Molinari give one Lail Van Hosen a bottle of alleged whiskey in the Molinari saloon Friday night. Soon after, Walling arrested Van Hosen on South Main street, and what is thought to be the same bottle of liquor was found in his possession. Van Hosen was accordingly charged with illegal possession of intoxicating liquor. When arraigned for hearing Friday morning he waived examination and was released on a $1,000 bail for appearance before the grand jury.

The police are of the opinion that Van Hosen retailed wet goods on the streets to certain customers, securing his supply from Molinari.

Skinner Sets Alley Mark

Myron B. Skinner, at the Y. M. C. A. bowling alley Saturday afternoon, set a mark that no doubt will be held for a while at least. It is expected that the first bowling tournament will open on the alley early in October. Interested bowlers should lead their names with Secretary Lange at their early convenience.

START WORK ON NEW BLOCK

Architectural Concrete Products Company for Spinala Building on Site of Goldsmith Store.

Work will be commenced today on the new store building which is to be erected by Carlo Spinala on the site of the former Goldsmith store at 112 Main street. Contract for the new structure has been awarded to the Architectural Concrete Products company.

On Saturday the large billboards which stood on the site were removed and work preliminary to starting with the construction was completed. The foundation that supported the Goldsmith store building, which burned several years ago, will be used as a foundation for the brick walls of the new building, so it is expected that work will progress rapidly.

Mr. Spinala hopes to move the grocery and fruit business, which he now conducts at 77 Main street, to his new store upon its completion in the latter part of December. Full description of the building was published in the account of the meeting of the city council held September 6 when plans submitted by Architect Epps were approved by that body.

TO HOLD CONVENTION HERE.

Ladies' Society to B. L. T. & E. Will Hold State Meeting Thursday.

The fifth annual convention of the New York state organization of the Ladies' Society to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers will be held in Oneonta Thursday, September 29, under the auspices of Autumn lodge, No. 83, the local unit of the society. Over 150 delegates and visitors from all parts of the state have announced their intention of being present and it is expected that many more than that number will be present from out of the city to attend the meetings. Mrs. Sadie E. Schoenell of Huntington, Indiana, grand president, will be among the high officials of the order in attendance and will have charge of the sessions.

Autumn lodge will exemplify the altruistic work of the order. This work will require two sessions, one from 10 until 12 in the morning, and an afternoon session from 2 to 5. At 8 o'clock in the evening a banquet will be served at the Oneonta hotel to the visitors and the members of Susquehanna lodge, B. L. T. & E. The latter organization will have two of their grand lodge officers present.

Following the banquet there will be held a reception and dance at Dreamland Hall. Changing five piece orchestra will furnish music for the dance as well as for the banquet. During the evening a special drill will be executed by the drill team of Fort Orange lodge, No. 113. At the convention held at Albany last year the team of Autumn lodge put on a drill and the Albany ladies are retaining the compliment this year.

For eight years Chandler fair price policy has made it the most astonishing value in the fine car field. Today it stands forth in startling contrast—a big, fine seven-passenger car, yet now back to the price of the 1913 five-passenger Chandler.

Only a large, successful organization with immense facilities and unlimited resources could produce the present highly refined and perfected Chandler at a price that was sensationally low eight years ago.

Today this splendid Chandler Six, famous for its marvelous motor and many individual features of design, cannot be duplicated in appearance or performance at anywhere near its price.

Chandler bodies, produced by master builders, offer all the elements of quality and refinement found in the highest priced cars. Stylish, beautiful and luxurious, yet dignified and avoiding the freakish and fleeting novelty.

DEATH OF JAMES ALMY

Descendant of Jehiel Todd, Founder of Toddville, Passes Away.

Saturday morning at 11:30 o'clock at his late home in Toddville occurred the death of James Almy, a descendant of Jehiel Todd, the founder of Toddville, and of Dr. Walter Almy, also one of the pioneers of that place. His death was the outcome of an illness of four years' duration, though he was confined to his bed for only two weeks.

Mr. Almy was born in Hartwick village, July 14, 1848, the only son of Dr. Edmund and Augusta Todd Almy, removing with his parents in early childhood to Toddville. He has since been a resident of that village, with the exception of a short sojourn at Burlington.

Mr. Almy was united in marriage with Miss Ella Todd 52 years ago last March, and she is the only surviving member of the immediate family. The deceased was a man of genial disposition and was generally well liked by his associates. He was engaged as a farm laborer for several years prior to his health failing. The funeral services will be held on Tuesday from his late home and will be private at the request of the deceased. Rev. T. F. Hall will officiate and interment will be in the family plot in Lakewood cemetery, Cooperstown.

Mrs. Martha Gaylord of Oneonta and Miss Florence A. Todd of Toddville are sisters-in-law and Fred Todd of Oneonta and Glenn Todd of Little Falls are brothers-in-law of the deceased. Besides the mother and the widow there are several nephews and nieces, to all of whom the sincere sympathy of a wide circle of friends and acquaintances will be extended.

O'Neil Boy Leaves Hospital Today

The condition of Paul O'Neil, who was injured Friday when run down by a race horse at the fair grounds, was such that it was thought at the Fox hospital that he will be able to leave for his home today. The boy was hurt before a large crowd assembled to see the races and it was thought by spectators that his injuries were fatal. Fortunately no serious complications have not developed and the lad is well on the way to recovery.

Condition Remains Serious

Ralph Norxon, the Unadilla young man who was struck by an O. & W. train at Miller's crossing near Sidney Friday afternoon, is resting comfortably at the Norwich Memorial hospital, where he was taken soon after the accident. He sustained a fracture of the skull. His condition Saturday was reported as serious, but fairly good.

It was the verdict of the Oneonta delegates that the convention was exceptionally well conducted. There was practically full attendance at all sessions, and Jamestown did its great credit in the way of entertainment. The next session will be held at Syracuse.

Above, a starving baby lying asleep along the roadside, its wasted body sheltered from the sun's rays by the wagon in which the family is moving in a frantic attempt to reach the edge of the famine belt. Below, the great trail of Russian famine belt sufferers encamped along the roadside in their march to more prosperous land.

SCHOOL CONFERENCE IN UTICA

Several Prominent Speakers Address Gathering of Those Interested in Rural Problems — Local Representative Present.

Professor Wilbur H. Lynch, Superintendent John E. Frederick and Superintendent Frank B. Gilbert of Franklin were among those from this section who attended the rural school conference held in Century auditorium, Utica, on Saturday. Those present were afforded the opportunity of hearing Commissioner Gray of the State Department of Education, for the first time since assuming his new duties. Other speakers representing the department were Deputy Commissioner Frank B. Gilbert; and for the "Committee of 21" the secretary, R. M. Snyder.

There were about 75 superintendents, teachers, agriculturists and others interested in rural school problems in attendance. John A. DeCamp, superintendent of schools of Utica, called the meeting together and acted as chairman.

Of ways of improving rural school conditions there were three principal ones brought out by the speakers and by the general discussion which followed. It was the opinion of all present that one of the first means of approaching a solution of the problem was to increase the size of the school districts. The present units are considered too small to be properly financed or easily managed. No constructive program was offered as to how this redistricting should be accomplished, however. It was also universally agreed that the rural districts should have more financial aid from the state. Improvement of the physical conditions of the school houses also came in for considerable discussion.

E. R. Eastman, editor of the Daily Freeman's League News, said that in his opinion the solution of the rural school problem could only come about and would do so when the economic condition of the farmer is improved. The farmers, he said, want good schools and are now offering the best facilities in their power. Later, he said, if the league and Farm Bureau can carry out their programs and make the farmers more prosperous the schools will benefit also.

It was expected that a preliminary report would be made by the "Committee of 21," but announcement was made that such report was not yet prepared.

A COUNTY FAIR.

Seventy-Five Boys Take Part in Y. M. C. A. Frolic Friday Night.

"The County Fair," an original play or frolic, was put on at the Y. M. C. A. Friday night with about 25 boys taking part. Few of the attractive personages found in side shows of the real county fair were omitted and all of the antics that could be attributed to such characters, and then some, were pulled off amidst a turn of applause. Also, hot dog and pop stands conducted by Jack Miller and Vincent Gill were quite in evidence.

Lack of space will not permit publication of a full list of characters in the show. Perhaps it is just as well, for it would be difficult for one, who did not witness the performance, to realize how some of the actors could possibly have done justice to their parts. Yet they did, and every act met with loud applause. Arthur Bouton and Eton Goldthwaite took prizes for the best of solos twenty stunts that were staged. About 75 boys, including the actors, were present.

AIDS IN CAR THEFT PROBLEM

Distinctive Numbers for Each County—State Tax Commission Also Announces No More Special Low Numbers Will Be Issued.

Albany, Sept. 25.—An entirely new method of issuing automobile license plate numbers for 1922, which it is believed will be of assistance in locating stolen cars and identifying traffic law violators, was announced today by the State Tax commission. The regulations also supplement the recent announcement from the tax commission that the custom of issuing so-called low or special numbers will be discontinued.

According to the plans announced distinctive numbers for pleasure cars will be assigned to each county so that it will be possible for the police, state troopers, or any other persons who are familiar with the method of distribution to determine at once in what county the car is registered. It is deemed that this will be of some assistance in locating stolen cars and in identifying the violators of the highway or local traffic laws.

The discontinuance of the distribution of so-called low numbers and selective numbers of registration plates has now been ordered by resolution of the commission. The first two thousand numbers will be reserved for state owned cars and the remaining numbers will be distributed to applicants in the order of their application from the offices of the department in New York, Brooklyn, Albany and Buffalo, and from county clerks' offices in the several counties of the state.

The so-called letter series of numbers, that is a number prefixed by some letter of the alphabet, will not appear next year. After consultation with the prison department, which is manufacturing the majority of next year's plates, it was found that one of the principal reasons for delay in the issuance of plates was caused by the necessity of changing the dies in order to produce such a variety of numbers. By eliminating these special numbers, the prison department will be able to take care of all but 300,000 pairs of number plates for 1922 and will be in a position to make all the plates necessary for 1923. About 30,000 low numbers were made possible by use of the letter series. With the discontinuance of this series, there remain only 2,000 low numbers.

Plates will be distributed to 55 county clerks, in addition to the offices already named, on or about the first of December, and the commission states it will be readily seen that any attempt to obtain number numbers will result in a very great deal of work and confusion. The law provides that 25 per cent of all license fees paid must be returned to the county of which the licensee is a resident. It will, therefore, be a great assistance in the administration of the law, according to the commission, if all applicants will apply to the county clerk of the county in which they reside, and the number that such applicant receives will indicate the county of his residence wherever he may travel.

All automobile owners will receive the same treatment, the commission declares. Numbers will be assigned in the order of application and from the series available at each particular distribution office.

WORK OF CIVIC LEAGUE

REV. F. H. GATES ADDRESSES UNION SERVICE AT BAPTIST CHURCH LAST NIGHT.

Says Prohibition Is Here To Stay — Tells of Principles for Which His Organization Stands — Commends Stand of President Harding and Governor Miller on Law Enforcement — Pleased by Conditions at Oneonta Fair and Star's Stand on Prohibition.

Speaking before a union service in the First Baptist church last night, Rev. F. H. Gates of Cortland told of the purposes of the New York State Civic league, an organization in whose work he has been actively engaged since leaving the ministry several years ago. Rev. Gates outlined in some detail the purposes for which his organization stands and told of some of its accomplishments during the last session of the state legislature.

Referring to some of the work of the last legislature which he said was probably the best in the history of the state, Rev. Gates commended especially their stand on prohibition in passing the Mullan-Gage act, a measure which the Civic league sponsored and which Governor Miller supported and signed.

Prohibition Here to Stay. Prohibition, the speaker contended, is here to stay. He said that it was a part of the supreme law of the land—the federal constitution, and decreed the efforts of a certain element to bring it into discredit by wilfully breaking its provisions. He added that to his mind there is not a doubt but that prohibition is a success. Stories about its violation which get considerable publicity, he said, can be taken for about half their face value; for, he continued, they are simply magnified at the expense of anti-prohibitionists in order to convert the public into thinking that the law is not to be respected and that the nation does not stand back of it.

Defeat of the petty race track gambling bill, a measure which he said would defeat much of the good accomplished by Governor Hughes, Rev. Gates attributed in part to efforts of his organization in rallying the opposition. The Civic league stood squarely back of Governor Miller, the speaker said in his advocacy of the motion picture censorship bill, which it was his opinion will do much to clean up a business that has great possibilities for good in a community. Speaking of Oneonta theatres, he said that the pictures they had been showing were of the better grade, and he was happy to say that improvement was to be found all over the state.

In considering law enforcement, one of the principles for which the Civic league stands, Rev. Gates was high in his praise of President Harding. The President, in his personal and official habits, he said, is setting a splendid example in citizenship for the nation.

Would Regulate Pool Parlors.

One act, which the speaker said his organization hoped to see passed, is one that would regulate pool parlors. This business, he contended, can, and often is, run properly, but on the other hand pool parlors are too often places where young boys first get their start on the downward path.

Summing up the purposes of the Civic league the speaker said that it stands for any measure that is just, humane, moral and for Christian uplift, and that it is for the betterment of the methods for its accomplishment of the purpose is publicity. A periodical bulletin sent out, tells of the measures before the legislature, of qualifications of candidates for election and other news of use to the citizen who would be well informed and honest.

Commends Managers of Oneonta Fair.

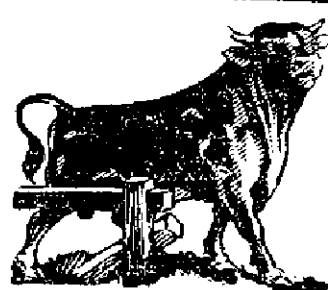

Referring to the open violation of gambling laws, Rev. Gates commended the management of the Oneonta fair in prohibiting gaming devices and schemes to flim flam the public. The success of the Oneonta fair in so dealing with these establishments, considered by nearly every other fair as essential to its prosperity, he said, shows that people don't want these things; and is a good argument for their general abolition.

Rev. Gates also spoke well of the stand taken in the editorial column of The Star for Saturday in commenting favorably on the improvement brought by prohibition on conditions in the city during fair week.

HILL ACQUIRES MORNING SUN

Former Congressman to Assume Management of Binghamton's Morning Paper on October 1 — Paper Will Be Independent Republican.

Otsego and Delaware county friends of former Congressman William H. Hill will be interested in the following dispatch from Binghamton:

It is announced that the Binghamton Morning Sun will pass into the control of William H. Hill, former state senator and former representative in congress, October 1.

The Morning Sun was established by George F. Johnson about two years ago, when Mr. Johnson bought the old Binghamton Republican-Herald and changed the name. Mr. Johnson bought an entirely new mechanical plant and moved the publication into the new Chamber of Commerce building. He expended many thousands of dollars in making the paper an up to date publication. Under Mr. Johnson the Sun has been independent in politics.

The new publisher will make the newspaper independently Republican.

Peculiar Philippine Buffalo.

When Americans first went to the Philippines they were much interested in the odd-looking beast known there as the "water buffalo"—a smaller variety commonly used as a draft animal, but giving little milk. It is extensively utilized in the same way in China. The brute cannot endure hard work in the sun unless its skin is frequently wet, and hence its habit of wallowing in mud or water. If overcome by the heat it may go crazy and is liable to be dangerous. But the milk buffalo, kept for dairy purposes, needs no water hole.
